100% Glass

Glass is important to us, never will you find a Cosmopolitan design made with anything other than glass. Many other manufacturers still use cheaper plastic inserts between the glass.

Years of research and development into glass designs, enables us to offer some fantastic pieces using different techniques which will show off your front door.

Huge Choice

Our glass range features some time-served traditional classics, through to contemporary and unique designs that are sure to get the neighbours talking. All Cosmopolitan glass is toughened and conforms to BSI kitemark.

Hand Crafted

All glass designs from Cosmopolitan are meticulously and intricately handcrafted, to ensure each piece of glass looks as exquisite as the next. Each of the glass bevels used is bonded using specially designed UV resistant glue, which is developed to withstand anything our climate can throw at it.

Consistent Quality

No matter what door you choose, you are guaranteed to have selected a door that performs. Each door leaving our factory is of the highest quality and comes with a no-nonsense 10 year guarantee.

Heat Shield Technology

For years woodgrain effect doors have been prone to failures, mainly due to the level of heat that surface temperatures of the doors can reach causing them to warp, crack or bubble. You may not be aware of this problem, especially if you read other door catalogues as they don't bring your attention to it. However, at Cosmopolitan we are so confident that our exclusive Heat Shield protected doors work, we want you to be aware of it!

A CLOSER LOOK

Gluechip Glass

Gluechip glass is created using an intricate handmade process where no two pieces of glass are ever the same. The pattern created is completely random in nature and enhances the appearance of the door as well as offering a high level of obscurity without reducing light transmission.

Marble Film

Marble film is designed to match the fascinating variety and natural beauty of marble itself. Various pattern directions and shades, from colour to clear, make it look as nature intended.

Crystal Glass Bevels

Each crystal clear glass bevel is individually designed and bonded onto the main glass by skilled craftsman. Designs that feature a cluster of bevels create a stunning visual effect for your home with the rays of light being reflected in many directions.

Aged Lead

Aged Lead (standard on all designs using lead) features in several designs throughout the Cosmopolitan collection. This attractive finish, often between glass bevels or different finishes, adds character to the overall glass design. As with any metal, natural oxidation of the Lead occurs and cannot be accepted as a fault.

Heat Shield

Exclusive to Cosmopolitan, Heat Shield is standard on all our woodgrain doors. The technology prevents your door from absorbing heat, which causes dark colours to expand and contract on hot days. Similar to wooden doors when they expand and no longer fit in the frame, some PVC-U doors still suffer with this problem. With Heat Shield you can rest assured your door won't crack warp or bubble.
